GROUND TO BITS UNDER WHEELS OF A FBRIGHT TRAIN

Remains of Sam Howard Picked Up in Shovel Along
Right of Way.

Attempted to Step on Rear of Engine.

MISSED FOOTING AND FELL.

Sam Howard, 26 years old, colored, of 909 North Tenth street, a former railroad section hand, was ground to pieces under the wheels of the Cairo local freight train at 8 o'clock this morning, when he attempted to board the train at Ninth and Finley streets. He was dragged for two blocks and bits of his body were scattered along the track. The form, mangled beyond recognition, was pulled from underneath the cars when the train was brought to a standstill. Later he was removed to Andy Watkins' undertaking shop, on South Seventh street. Coroner Baker will hold an inquest tomorrow afternoon.

The Cairo freight, west-bound, had rounded the curve at Ninth and Clay streets and was getting under good headway when it reached Finley street. The engine, No. 1869, was in charge of Engineer J. F. Troutman and Fireman J. T. Cundiff, and the train in charge of Conductor Joe K. Burkham. As it passed Finley street Howard was seen to run along behind the tender and suddenly jump for the footboard. His foot missed and he fell across the rail, the wheel of the car behind the tender grinding out his life. Blood and shreds of clothing were scattered for the first block and at Ninth and Burnett streets his left leg below the knee fell by the track. Engineer Troutman brought his engine to a standstill about a square distant and the horribly ground body was pulled from beneath the wheels to the left of the track, where close friends were able to recognize the crushed face.

Ground to Pulp.
So mangled and torn was the body that it had to be shoveled into an undertaker's basket. The head was torn away, and the top of the skull crushed, exposing the brain, while his limbs were crushed and scattered and his body ground into a pulp. Luella Howard, his sister, who came to view the form, fainted and had to be carried home.

Howard, better known as "Speckle," was a section hand for the Illinois Central until last January, working between Paducah and La Center, on the Cairo division. For several months he had been working at the Langstaff-Orme mill as a slab worker. He left home this morning about 20 minutes before the train passed and was doubtless trying to beat his way to Cairo.

Patrolman Toke Owen had cautioned Howard several times about hopping the train, as he did this frequently, but he paid no heed. He was known to be industrious. He carried three accident policies with the National, Kentucky Central and Metropolitan insurance companies. He leaves three sisters: Luella Howard, Willie Davis and Myrtle Burnett, and Ellen Armstrong, a grandmother, all living at 909 Burnett street, and a grandmother, Sella Howard, living at Bandana.

The police were not surprised to learn of the accident this morning, as train hopping is an every morning occurrence and they are unable to stop it.

PATOLMAN CLARK FOUND NOT GUILTY

WARRANT SWORN OUT BY
ALTA ROGERS IS DISMISSED
TODAY.

The warrant against Patrolman Clark, sworn out by Alta Rogers, keeper of a south side resort, was dismissed by Magistrate Emery this afternoon. He was charged with forcing his way into the house and pointing his revolver.

LONE OAK SCHOOL CASE
BEFORE CIRCUIT COURT.

Judge Reed today took up the case of Miss Greenville Harrison against W. L. Davis and the county school board to compel the signing of a contract for a teacher's position in the Lone Oak school. Miss Eleanor Browning and Miss Harrison are contestants for the place. Miss Browning is in charge of the schools.

Former State Official is Thrown From His Rig and Probably Fatally Injured, Returning to His Old Home

Louisville Man Cornered and Shot Down by a Friend, Whose Wife He Had In-sulted.

Hartford, Ky., Nov. 24. (Special.)—While on his way from Beaver Dam to Morgantown to visit his father's family, E. D. Guffy, former assistant secretary of state, and son of ex-Judge B. L. D. Guffy, was thrown from a buggy in a runaway and probably fatally injured.

Insulted His Wife.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 24. (Special.)—Pursued through the main street of the city and finally brought to bay in front of a vacant store, William Proctor, recent Republican candidate for city auditor, and former member of the school board, was shot and fatally wounded by R. M. Cully, on account of an insult to Cully's wife. They were formerly fast friends.

Kills Wife and Self.

Richmond, Ky., Nov. 24. (Special.)—Oscar Osborne after a family quarrel, shot his wife and himself. Both will die.

John K. Hendrick Named.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 24. (Special.)—John K. Hendrick takes the place of John R. Allen on Governor Wilson's redistricting commission.

Both Seriously Burned.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 24. (Special.)—Herbert McMath was fatally burned and Will Payne seriously injured by a fire which destroyed W. H. Whitlow's carpenter shop at Pembroke. Payne was burned trying to drag McMath from the flames.

The Company Wins.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 24. (Special.)—A motion for a rehearing of the suit of Mrs. Dan Cunningham, administrator, against the Ayer & Lord Tea Company from the McCracken circuit court was overruled today by the appellate court. Mrs. Cunningham sued the company for the death of her husband, who fell overboard and was drowned while repairing a boat. The company won the suit in the McCracken circuit court and in the appellate court, and the plaintiff made a motion for a rehearing.

QUEEN HURRIES TO HER BROTHER

A FRENCH AUTHOR DEMANDS THAT ALFONSO BE BLACK-BAILED.

Paris, Nov. 24.—Hurrying to the bedside of her brother, Prince Leopold, of Battenberg, Queen Victoria, of Spain, passed through Paris today. No stop was made by the royal party as the queen is impatient to reach England.

PRESIDENT GETS TURKEY AND PIES

IMMENSE BIRD AND PASTRY TWO FEET IN DIAMETER HIS SIZE.

Washington, Nov. 24.—With a 52-pound Rhode Island turkey and 51 New Jersey mince-meat pies as the chief objects of interest on the Thanksgiving table, none in the Taft family will go to bed hungry tomorrow night. The turkey is said to be the largest ever browned in a white house oven. It was presented by a poultryman who has been sending gobblers to the presidents since Grant's time. The pies were sent by the bakers' union of New Jersey. They are more than two feet in diameter, and three inches thick. "The only absentee from the family circle is Robert Taft, the eldest son, a senator at Yale. Helen, from Bryn Mawr, and Charles from Uncle Horace's preparatory school at Watertown, Conn., arrived today.

President Taft will receive visitors on Thanksgiving day. He will do his morning correspondence with Secretary Carpenter, and later attend the Pan-American Thanksgiving services at St. Patrick's church, to which all foreign diplomats also are invited. All employees of the executive office will be on duty as usual in the morning.

WASHOUTS.
Spokane, Nov. 24.—Railroad traffic in the Pacific northwest is practically at a standstill, following the worst rainfall in years for the whole week. There are many landslides. Trains on all roads are stalled. Tracks are washed out at many places. Several trains are reported derailed by washouts.

De Armond Was Minority Power in Lower House

Washington, Nov. 24.—In Mr. De Armond, the Democrats lose one of their leaders on the floor of the house. A member of that body for the past 19 years and a man of education, wide experience and fluent speech, he had become one of the principal resources of his party in all discussions of national questions. He made a specialty of labor subjects, but was never at a loss in handling almost any question.

Mr. De Armond had been on the bench before coming to congress, and he naturally gave much attention to judicial subjects. He was a member of the committee on judiciary at the time of his death and had held that post for many years. Previous to the present congress, he also was a member of the committee on rules, but the selection of his colleague, Champ Clark, as minority leader, rendered it necessary to place Mr. Clark on that committee, which had the effect of displacing Mr. De Armond as two could not be appointed from the same state.

While Mr. De Armond will long be remembered for his brilliant oratory, especially for his power of sarcasm, and capacity for invective, he also will be known on account of his qualities as a party fighter. Inclined to be pugnacious he often pleaded subjects as an aggressor rather than as a defender. This quality of mind was the means of getting him into a personal altercation two years ago with John Sharp Williams, who was then the Democratic leader of the house. The difference between them arose over Mr. Williams' designation of a Missouri colleague of Mr. De Armond's for a committee position in the organization of the sixtieth congress. They came to blows, but both being lightweights, neither was badly hurt.

Mr. De Armond was an aspirant for the leadership of the house, but the recognition of Mr. Clark effectively cut him out of that position.

De Armond was first elected to the house of representatives from the sixth congressional district of Missouri in 1891, and served continuously. He was one of the best known members of the lower house at Washington, and had occupied other positions of prominence in his state.

He was a Democrat and in addition to his political prominence was a well known lawyer.

He was born March 18, 1844, in Blair county, Pa. His early life was spent on his father's farm, receiving his education in the common schools and at Williamsport Dickinson seminary.

In his young manhood he practiced law in Butler, Mo., and in 1884 was named as presidential elector. He held successively the positions of state senator, circuit judge and Missouri supreme court commissioner. His entry into congress was in 1891, when he was made a representative in the fifty-second congress and was re-elected to each succeeding congress, including the sixty-first.

Taft Sends Condolence.
Butler, Mo., Nov. 24.—Word was received from Washington last night that a congressional committee has been appointed to attend the funeral of De Armond and his grandson Friday.

Taft sent the following to Mrs. De Armond:
"Mrs. Taft and I were shocked to hear the dreadful news. We sympathize most deeply with you. Your husband and I were very intimate. I valued his friendship most highly. He was an honest and able servant of the public, and a patriot. My heart goes out to you in your loss."

Police Stop Bout.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 24.—The police last night stopped a boxing contest between Sam Langford, the negro middleweight, and Mike Shreck, after half a minute's fighting in the first round, on account of Shreck's apparent lack of condition. Langford in the brief period of boxing knocked Shreck down twice and pummeled him at will.

WILL BE QUIETLY CELEBRATED IN CITY TOMORROW

Thanksgiving Will be General
Holiday Among All Classes of Citizens.

Banks, Postoffice and Shops to Close.

SERVICES AT THE CHURCHES.

Thanksgiving Day will be observed quietly in Paducah tomorrow. No elaborate celebration of the day has been planned, although there will be a general cessation of business in honor of the occasion.

Probably the most interesting feature of the day to the younger people and the older, too, will be the Thanksgiving day dinner with its cranberries and delicacies, although many tables will be without the time-honored turkey on account of the high price this season.

Nearly all the retail stores will close tomorrow at noon in order to give their clerks a half holiday, although a few stores will grant a full day. All of the banks will be closed all day, while the postoffice will be open from 9 to 10 o'clock in the morning, and there will be only one delivery of mail. The Illinois Central railroad shops will be closed with the exception of a small crew to maintain running repairs.

Services will be held in the St. Francis de Sales, Grace, Broadway Methodist and First Baptist churches in the morning, while charitable organizations will observe the day. The usual reception will be held at the home of the Friendless in the afternoon, and the Salvation Army will hold a special observance, but already work has begun on the Christmas dinner. The Rescue mission will distribute clothing and tomorrow afternoon will distribute fruits among the inmates of the county sanitarium. Prisoners in the city and county jails will be tendered a feast that will make them forget their desire for freedom.

The German Lutheran and German Evangelical churches will have meetings tomorrow night. For the lovers of sports there will be a football game between the Paducah Athletic club's eleven and the Marion, Ill., team at League park. A number of young fellows will leave for Nashville, St. Louis, Louisville and other places to see some of the big football games.

Hunting will claim the nimrods, and a large number of sportsmen will be out tomorrow after the ducks, squirrels and quail.

Special services will be held at the Cumberland Presbyterian church tomorrow evening at 7:30. The Rev. D. W. Hooks is improving rapidly from his recent illness. A special offering for the Home of the Friendless will be taken.

PHILIPPINES HAVE NEW GOVERNOR GENERAL

Manila, Nov. 24.—W. Cameron Forbes, of Massachusetts, today was inaugurated governor general of the Philippines in the chamber of the popular assembly. The occasion was a popular demonstration.

CITY CLOCK TENDER TELLS THE TROUBLE

Mr. John J. Bleich, tender of the city clocks, has been so bothered for the past few days by people complaining of the irregular movements of the hands of the First Baptist church clock, that he gave out a statement today. "The clock might as well not be there," said Mr. Bleich, "and it is up to the city to have it repaired. Rumors have been afloat that the congregation of the church was about to seek a new location and if this is done it will be useless to spend any money on the clock. This is the whole situation. Pigeons light on the hands and it is impossible to keep the clock regulated, for as fast as I correct the mechanism it goes wrong. The clock has been in the church tower 50 years and during the whole time I don't believe the city has spent over $75 on it. It is just worn out."

Purchase Representatives Unite in Demand For Normal School in Southwestern Part of Kentucky

Representative F. E. Graves of McCracken County. Will Lead Fight in House--None
West of Bowling Green.

A state normal school for the Purchase will be the slogan of a fight in the next session of the legislature with Representative Eugene Graves as a leader. With all of the representatives of the western part of the state lined up for the school the fight may be successful, and if secured Paducah may be selected as a location owing to its accessibility for all parts of the Purchase.

This morning Mr. Graves said: "It was one of the reasons that I made the race for re-election; for if a normal school is needed anywhere it certainly is in the western part of the state. At the approaching session an effort will be made to establish a normal school in the old state buildings in Frankfort, but I am going to oppose this with vigor. The western part of the state has long been neglected in locating of state institutions, while other sections of the state are well equipped with schools. The nearest normal school for pupils from this part of the state is Bowling Green, and I think it would be unfair to establish a new normal school in Frankfort, while the normal school at the State University is only a few miles away. I hope that the fight for the normal school in the Purchase will be successful, and it is certainly needed."

Will Come Here.
Should Mr. Graves be so fortunate as to have the normal school authorized, it is certain that every town in the Purchase would be eager to secure it; but it is thought that Paducah would be favored on account of its size and the facilities of transportation.

Another bill Representative Graves will introduce will be to require the railroads to repair cars and equipment on the division on which it became disabled. Such a bill has been passed by the Texas legislature, and today Mr. Graves wrote for a copy. He intended to introduce the bill at the last session, but as the senatorial race overshadowed everything it was not done. At present railroads send cars to any shops convenient for repairs.

Barry Whips Calloway.

Boston, Nov. 24.—The ability of Ralph Calloway, colored, of California, to stand terrific punishment, together with his gameness, enabled him to last nine rounds against Jim Barry, of Chicago, at the Army Athletic association last night. Calloway was knocked out in the tenth round.

ROBBERS MURDER OLD MAN IN NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, Nov. 24.—Robbers today shot and killed George Eichen, a wealthy German, then carried his body to the rear of the home and threw it into the well. Several persons were in the house at the time of the tragedy, but all declare they heard nothing. Fifty police are detailed to work on the case. There is no clew yet.

"We Die Together 169" Last Word in Italian

Cherry, Ill. Nov. 24.—Rescuers, working all night, located many bodies in the east side of the lower vein early today. Accounts vary, some rescuers saying 169 bodies, although the company's records show only 80 in the lower vein when the fire broke out. The bodies were buried under the debris. That is the reason they were not found by the rescuers yesterday. The dead men had wooden fans like the live men found had made. Rescuers today are in a quandary whether to try to open the west side upper tunnel, where living men may be, or take out the bodies. If they open the west tunnel they will risk reviving fire in that section, which was fought all night.

It is impossible to confirm the estimate of 169. No effort was made to count the bodies. The estimate is based on a message scratched in Italian on a piece of slate near the bodies. Translated it reads, "We die together, 169." It is barely legible. Rescuers say it might be 16 or 69. They also believe "169" might be the check number of the writer. Attempts to remove them are blocked by water in the lower vein. It is impossible to get to the hoisting shaft, the only means of exit. They are in such a bad condition they can't be brought up the air shaft. Floats are being built and an effort will be made to float the corpses to the bottom of the hoisting shaft, and bring them up in an improvised cage. Workers did not attempt of their own efforts and returned to the surface speedily for aid.

That the men didn't starve to death, but were killed by black damp was clearly indicated before any bodies were examined. A number of dinner pails, containing food and water, were found near the corpses. Evidently they perished a week before the water poured into the mine.

Dr. C. E. Kidd returned today after a few days' visit in Livingston county.

LOST IN WILDS.
Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 24.—Friends of John Hazeman, graduate of Indiana University, who during the last two years has been doing research work in the Amazon river valley for the Carnegie Institute, today fear that he is lost in the South American wilds. No word has been received from him in several months.

FORMER FIREMEN HAFLEY IS DEAD

WILL BE BROUGHT BACK AND BURIED IN PADUCAH.

Firemen received a telegram today that Will Haffey, 33 years old, for six years a member of the Paducah fire department, died in Covington this morning of tuberculosis. For months he has been in declining health, and several months ago the firemen sent him to Covington where he tried to find relatives but failed, and entered the home of the Sisters of the Poor. The only near relative is John Haffey, of Anna, Ill. Haffey was born and reared in Paducah, and was a popular boy. As a fireman he did valiant service, but resigned about five years ago. He was in Paducah a few months ago, and it was his last wish that he be buried in Paducah. Firemen are raising a fund to have the body brought back to his home, and the funeral probably will be Sunday. He was a member of the Catholic church and the burial will be in the Mt. Carmel cemetery.

SHOW BOAT PEOPLE GOT THE BEST OF IT

Capt. W. W. Peden, of Price's showboat, called at police headquarters today. "We gave them worse than they wanted," said Captain Peden, in reference to the recent attack upon the boat at Brodie's Landing, up the Tennessee river, by a number of drunken rowdies. "My older son, Harry, 22 years old, was struck and cut in the head by a whisky bottle thrown by one of the mob, and the report that an actor had been killed is without foundation. I laid in ambush all night for one of the mob to appear, but they had enough. Marcus, 19 years old, my other son, followed my directions and broke one fellow's jaw and several more men's ribs."

Troubles Increase.

Luther Bailey's troubles increased this morning as in addition to a fine of $50 in police court, his wife, Alice Bailey, filed suit for divorce, alleging cruel treatment. The couple was married April 15, 1906, and separated November 21, 1908. She asks that her maiden name of Alice Turner, be restored and she be given possession of their ten-month-old child, Lella Bailey. Alimony to the extent of $1,000 is asked.

ELKS' MEMORIAL SUNDAY PROGRAM FOR DECEMBER 5

Beautiful Service in Commemoration of Lodge's Dead.

Will be Public in the Kentucky Theater.

ORATOR FOR THE OCCASION.

Paducah lodge of Elks No. 217, will revive the memory of departed brothers December 5, when the eighteenth annual memorial service will be held at the Kentucky theater.

During the year four members of the lodge have died, but the service will be for the memory of all of 54 deceased members of the Paducah lodge. A splendid program has been arranged, and the public is cordially invited to attend the service.

Especially pains have been taken this year by the committee in the preparation of the program and a beautiful service for the memory of the dead is assured. The state of the theater will be transformed into a miniature lodge room, and all of the members will be seated on it while the friends of the lodge and public will fill the theater to its capacity.

The members who died during the year are: William Bornemann, McD. Ferguson, of La Center, E. S. Howard, of Eddyville, and Dr. J. R. Marquette Dillon, of New Orleans. The lodge was fortunate during the year as the death toll was small. Invitations to the memorial service will be mailed Monday. They are unusually handsome this year and were purchased in Philadelphia. The cover is handsomely embossed with the Paducah lodge and number in gold, while the symbol of the lodge is engraved on the cover.

The Program.
The oration will be delivered by Hon. Joseph M. Huffaker, of Louisville. Exalted Ruler G. R. Davis will be his master of ceremonies.

The program is:
Processional—Piano, violin and cornet—Miss Adah L. Brazelton, Clark Bondurant and Robert Bondurant.
Invocation—The Rev. G. W. Banks.
Opening ceremonies—From ritual by the lodge.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH.

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great multi-millionaire was too busy to worry about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to run from bad to worse until in the end it became incurable. His misfortune should serve as a warning to others. Every one who suffers with dyspepsia for a few years will give everything he owns for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is caused by an abnormal state of the gastric juices. There is one element missing—Pepsin. The absence of this destroys the function of the gastric fluids. They lose their power to digest food.

We are now able to supply the pepsin in a form almost identical to that naturally created by the system when in normal health, so that it restores to the gastric juices their digestive power, and thus makes the stomach strong and well.

We want every one troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia to come to our store and obtain a box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. They contain Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin prepared by a process which develops their greatest power to overcome digestive disturbance.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are very pleasant to take. They soothe the irritable, weak stomach, strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, relieve nausea and indigestion, promote nutrition and bring about a feeling of comfort.

If you give Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets a reasonable trial we will return your money if you are not satisfied with the result. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Paducah only at our store.—The Rexall Store, W. B. McPherson, Fourth and Broadway.

News of Theatres

AT THE KENTUCKY.

Thanksgiving (matinee and night)—"My Dixie Girl," romantic drama. Saturday (matinee and night)—"The Heart of an Indian."

A romance of old Kentucky, giving an insight of domestic life, one of the prettiest plays ever written on the south. Such is "My Dixie Girl," at the Kentucky on November 25, matinee and night. Heading the cast is the actress Pearl Evans Lewis.

"The Merry Widow."

All reviewers that have written about the great international success, "The Merry Widow," which attraction comes to the Kentucky theatre for a matinee and night engagement on December 4th, burst into eloquent panegyrics based principally on the sentiment that all the world loves a lover. By this same token the Lehar waltz, which is the chief feature of the second act, and has a swinging theme running through the entire performance, reaches the souls of men and women of all races, stirs them with the magic which is in it, fairly captivating the senses of everyone.

Lots of garrulous people make a specialty of saying nothing.

THANKSGIVING
GAME LINE-UP

MARION, ILL. AND PADUCAH ATHLETIC CLUB.

Will Play Tomorrow Afternoon on the League Park Grid-Iron.

HIGH SCHOOL AWAY FROM HOME

When the pigskin is kicked off tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock it will mean the beginning of a hard struggle between the Marion, Ill., football eleven and the husky team of the Paducah Athletic club. Both teams have faced each other before and the score ended 0-0, so the game tomorrow will be full of interest. All of the players are in first class trim and are waiting for the whistle to sound.

Tonight the last practice will be held by the P. A. C. squad and to avoid injury to his pets, Coach Grover Burns will have only a light signal practice. The team has been through a gruelling practice, and the padded knights are ready to answer the call of battle. Marion will arrive tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, and from reports are ready for the fray. Play will be called at 3 o'clock and the halves will be 35-35. Gus Elliott will be referee, while a Marion man will be umpire.

The teams will line up:

P. A. C. Positions. Marion.
Dunbar lb. Beers
Callins lb. Webb
Ross lb. Herrin
Virgin lb. Davis
Jeffords lb. Veach
Walters lb. Boatwright
Reeder lb. Pillow
Laftenburg lb. Hillard
Jones lb. Gent
Polk lb. Wilson
Bryant or Burton lb. Rayburn

High School Game.

The Paducah High school squad will leave tomorrow for Madisonville to play the Madisonville High school football team. A splendid game is expected and Paducah expects to be victorious. Coach Craig has his warriors in good trim for the hard battle, but expects to return with a winning team that may claim the championship of western Kentucky. A bunch of rooters will accompany the team. WEEK OF PRAYER

BEING OBSERVED BY LAYMEN THIS WEEK.

Is for Spread of Gospel Throughout the Whole World—Day's Program.

This is the week of prayer among laymen. The following statement tells what it is:

At a conference of representatives of seven lay Brotherhoods in the United States held in Chicago, January 22, 1908, it was voted to recommend to the Brotherhoods and to other organizations of men and to missionary boards throughout the world, the observance of the week beginning with the Sunday following the last Thursday in November, as a week of special prayer for the

ONE LESS BALD HEAD.

If You Are Losing Your Hair Read This Interesting Letter.

Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
Dear Sirs—"I was told of your great remedy, Parisian Sage, that it would grow hair on bald heads, so I got a bottle and tried it and it is fine. I am a young man and only twenty-five, and was completely bald on the top of my head and now I have hair one inch long with the use of only one bottle. I only wish I could have shown you my photo before the hair started to grow and how it is now. I shall certainly keep on using it until I have a good head of hair, which I have no doubt it will bring." Oscar Armstrong, Engineer, Belleville Horse Shoe and Rolling Mill Co., Belleville, Ont., August 21, 1909.

To every reader of the Sun the American makers of Parisian Sage wish to emphatically state that they do not guarantee Parisian Sage to grow hair on bald heads, because in the great majority of cases the hair roots are absolutely dead and not even the wonderful virtue of Parisian Sage can resurrect them.

Mr. Armstrong started to use Parisian Sage in time, before the hair root was entirely dead and in such a case there is no good reason why Parisian Sage should not restore his hair.

W. J. Gilbert guarantees Parisian Sage to remove every trace of dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back, but he does not guarantee it to grow hair on bald heads.

Sold by leading druggists all over America and in Paducah by W. J. Gilbert. Large bottle 50 cents.

spread of Christ's Kingdom among men throughout the world.

The suggestion was very generally accepted by Christians everywhere of every name. Brief suggestions of topics for prayer and meditation were issued, which were printed in full in very many religious papers, and of which, in leaflet form, about 350,000 copies were circulated. It was translated into Chinese, and in Brazil into Portuguese.

At a similar conference held in Pittsburg February 26, 1909, at which were present representatives of the Baptist, Congressional, and Methodist Brotherhoods, the Presbyterian Brotherhood of America, the United Presbyterian Men's Movement, the Brotherhood of the Disciples of Christ, the Federation of Men's Church Organizations, the Brotherhoods of St. Andrew and of Andrew and Phillip, the International Y. M. C. A., the National League of Universalist Laymen, the Presbyterian Brotherhood in the Southern Church, the National Conference of Church Clubs, the Laymen's Missionary Movement, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, and the Laymen's Evangelistic Conference, it was voted to urge the observance of a similar week again. Since the conference, promises of co-operation have been received from the Men's Organization in the Lutheran Church and the Brotherhood of St. John, in the United States, and from the Brotherhoods of St. Andrew in Canada, the West Indies, England and New Zealand, from the Church of England's Men's Society, and from the heads of several Churches in Asia and Africa.

It was voted also to recommend to the Brotherhoods to co-operate in the International Y. M. C. A. week of Prayer for Young Men during the second week of November, 1909, unless the World's Conference of the Y. M. C. A. sees fit to unite with the Brotherhoods in the later week.

John xiv. Prayer in Christ's name: John xiv, 13, 14, xv, 16, 17, xvi, 23, 24. It is not to use Christ's name as a charm with God; but that we may rise up to our dignity as members of Christ. To ask in Christ's name is to ask with Christ's authority for what He would ask. 1 John v, 14.

The prayer that He sanctions, inspires, So we pray in the Holy Spirit (Jude 20, Rom viii, 26). Let us pray for the missionary work of the church at home and abroad.

For an increase of missionary zeal throughout Christendom. For all engaged in missionary work, teachers, doctors, nurses and others, as well as ministers, large heartedness.

Recognition of God's manifold wisdom in dealing with various peoples. Witness in life and temper to Christian standards and Christian grace. A spirit of entire self-sacrifice.

The Sponge in Football. Gentle reader, have you ever observed at a football game the agile youth who stands on the sidelines, holding a pail of water in which floats a sponge?

From time to time during a full in the day's occupation he rushes madly into the field and some husky player dips into the bucket, seizes the sponge, shoves it into his mouth and squeezes a drink from it. Then he throws it back into the bucket. Once in a while he misses the bucket and the sponge falls to the ground.

And occasionally someone is knocked out, then his fevered brow is cooled by the same sponge. Let us not go further into detail, but if you watch the sponge you will realize all the more the horrors of the game.—Chicago Post.

As long as a man can find something to kick about he feels that life is worth living.

JUROR JACKSON
SENT TO JAIL

HAD EXPRESSED HIS SYMPATHY WITH NIGHT RIDERS.

Judge Jones Orders Jurors Removed From Jail—Charges Against Two More.

CHALLENGED BY THE STATE

Union City, Tenn., Nov. 24.—Little progress was made in the work of securing the jury for the second trial of the alleged night riders, Arthur Clear and Garrett Johnson. Out of the sixty-seven talesmen examined sixty-five disqualified themselves and both the state and the defense exhausted a challenge each on the other two.

Considerable excitement prevailed when court convened yesterday afternoon. The attorney-general at once challenged Juror Charles Jackson and produced witnesses to prove that he had expressed himself in sympathy with the so-called night riders, whereupon Judge Jones fined the Juror $50 and sentenced him to ten days in the county jail.

Judge W. H. Swiggart, acting for the state, then asked the court to have the sheriff to not allow the other six jurors to remain at the jail, at which place they seemed to have been lodging, whereupon a lengthy argument ensued between the sheriff and the attorney-general. Judge Jones ordered the jurors removed.

Counsel for the state preferred charges against two more jurors, but said they would not make their names known until tomorrow morning, at which time they would also make the charges known.

The entire day has been spent in wrangling between the attorneys, and it looks now as if the work of securing the jury is going to be a much harder proposition than at first thought by the attorneys.

Judge Jones this afternoon ordered the sheriff to have as many talesmen as possible in court tomorrow morning, and said that he would not furnish the list of names, but would let them just get as many as they could, and the work of examining the jurors will be taken up the first thing in the morning unless the challenges by the state take up the morning session, and it is hardly likely that they will consume much time, as the court has ordered them to proceed with all possible speed.

CONCRETE BLOCKS

WILL SOON BE MADE FOR THE COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL.

Judge Lightfoot Relinquishes the Sub-Contract to Mr. James Rouse.

Making of the concrete blocks for the county high school building will begin in a few days by Contractor James Rouse. The sub-contract for making the blocks was let to County Judge R. T. Lightfoot, but he has abandoned the contract, and now Mr. Rouse will make the blocks himself. Judge Lightfoot is the only person who can make the marble concrete blocks in this vicinity, but he has consented to let Mr. Rouse have the formula in order that his contract may be carried out. Much splendid weather has been lost by the failure to start work on the blocks, and yesterday the county school board raised a howl on the delay of the work.

ICE TRUST AN ILLEGAL COMBINE

JUDGE SHIELDS HOLDS THAT COMPANY VIOLATES LAW.

Charter Forfeited and Stock Ordered Distributed Among Seven Constituent Companies.

AN APPEAL IS PROBABLE

St. Louis, Nov. 24.—C. W. White, president of the Polar Wave Ice and Fuel company, which was declared a combination in restraint of trade, in violation of the state anti-trust law, by a decision handed down by Judge George H. Shields in the circuit court, refused to make any statement; or say whether the corporation would appeal the case to the supreme court. Daniel N. Kirby, one of the firm's attorneys, stated he presumed an appeal would be taken, but could not say definitely.

If Judge Shields' decision is sustained by the supreme court, the Polar Wave company's charter will be forfeited and it will be ordered to distribute its stock among the seven companies, from a merger of which it was created, according to the original holdings of these companies.

The court found that immediately after the consolidation of the competing companies, the price of ice advanced from 35 to 50 cents per 100 pounds.

The Polar Wave corporation was organized February 13, 1903, through a merger of the following original companies: American Ice and Fuel company, Muckerman Ice and Fuel company, Union Ice company, Creve Coeur Lake Ice and Transportation company, Huse-Loomis Ice and Transportation company, Huse-Goodell Ice company and Hygeia Ice company. It has a capital stock of $1,800,000. Its officers are: C. W. Whitelaw, president; John C. Muckermann, vice-president; L. C. Muckermann, treasurer and general manager, and H. E. Penning, secretary.

Referee's Finding Overruled.

Judge Shields' decision overrules the finding of Clifford B. Allen, before whom the case was tried on its merits, as referee. Arthur N. Sager, former circuit attorney, took exception to the ruling of the referee, and asked Judge Shields to review the testimony. Judge Shields has held the case under advisement for more than a year. The case was prosecuted by Loomis Johnson, fourth assistant circuit attorney.

In his opinion Judge Shields criticizes the ruling of the referee, saying: "The conclusions of the referee ignore entirely the proposition that no competition ever existed between the constituent companies. The lack of competition resulted from a community of interests and parceling out of the territory of the city by the retail companies in the ice trade. Then the fact that there was no competition could not be used as an excuse for the continuation of the illegal combination by the new corporation. Judge Shields' reference to the Standard Oil decision by the United States circuit judges in his opinion shows that the effect of the latter is already being felt in the state tribunals.

Extracts From Decision.

Judge Shields' decision in part is: I am of the opinion that the community of interests which is shown by the evidence to exist between the stockholders of the three wholesale companies and the family relationship between the officers and stockholders of the four retail companies are facts to be taken into consideration in determining whether or not the respondent was organized as a corporation to perpetuate an illegal combination existing between some of the corporations which were destroyed by the transfer of the assets to the respondent company.

The whole report of the referee seems to be based on the idea that it was necessary to show an unlawful combination existing between the three wholesale and four retail companies. I am not of that opinion. It makes no difference whether an unlawful combination existed at that time.

I am satisfied there was an unlawful combination between the four retail companies; that the lack of competition between them and the wholesale companies was the result of a community of interests and management, and that the reason there was no competition was because they had stifled competition between them by their understandings and agreements.

History of the Case.

Sager filed his quo warranto proceedings in 1906, giving two specified reasons why the charter of the company should be annulled:

1. That the company had conspired with other companies to form a trust to control the output and price of ice.

2. That the methods employed in merging three wholesale and four retail companies was in violation of section 1324 of the statutes regulating the consolidation of companies.

The case was tried before Referee Allen, appointed by Jesse McDonald, former circuit judge, and about a year later Allen's report was filed with Judge Muench, sustaining the Polar Wave. Sager filed exceptions to the report, which were argued before Judge Shields, May 1, 1908. In this instance Charles Nagel, now secretary of commerce and labor, represented the Polar Wave, and Sager and Johnson the state. Judge Shields had the case under advisement since that date.

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 24.—Mrs. Louis Zanone, after advising with a number of friends, expended the money collected by her for the prosecution of Henry Salzner, in the purchase of a handsome monument for the late Mrs. Salzner, and had it shipped Tuesday to Paducah to be placed on the grave. The fund which Mrs. Zanone had collected amounted to $82.50, and other friends raised it to $100 for the monument.

The monument was made by the Cairo Monument company under direction of a committee consisting of Charles Lancaster (chairman), Dr. Walsh, Mrs. A. Comings and Mrs. George Magee. This committee inspected it before it was shipped.

The following receipt for the money paid for the monument is authorized to be published:

VIRGINIA FIRM GETS CONTRACT

FOR BUILDING MILES OF SIDEWALKS IN PADUCAH.

Reducing Specifications Lowers Cost to Less Than Twelve Cents.

MANY OUT-OF-TOWN BIDDERS

The contract for 100,000 square feet of concrete sidewalks was awarded to A. J. Miller & Son, of Lynchburg, Va., for $21,200.61, last night by the board of public works, which met in special session. Competition was keen for the contract, as there were sixteen bidders for the work, and the city got a low price is the opinion of the contractors. The work was advertised in municipal journals and ten foreign firms had in bids.

The contract was one of the largest ever let by the city for sidewalks, and when completed will be a great convenience to the citizens. The work includes Twelfth street between Kentucky avenue and Trimble street; Fountain avenue between Monroe street and Trimble street, and Clay street between Eighth street and Fountain avenue. The work will amount to about two and one-half miles of concrete sidewalks with curb and gutters.

The bids were: A. J. Miller & Son, of Lynchburg, Va., $21,200.61; Sales & Thompson, of Enid, Okla., $31,561.57; W. M. Leftwich, of Nashville, $31,983.87; Meacham Construction company, of Hopkinsville, $32,360.64; George W. Katter, of Paducah, $32,360.64; J. D. McGee, of Augusta, Ga., $33,075.16; Bigler Brothers, of Mobile, Ala., $33,285.62; W. Y. Noble, of Paducah, $33,695.59; Wilcox & Caldwell, of Paducah, $33,815.80; H. M. Weikel, of Paducah, $33,954.15; George Gardner, of Paducah, $35,602.64; Yancey & Johnson, of Paducah, $38,771.25; Charles L. Robertson, of Paducah, $39,754.05; Clair Butterworth, of St. Louis, $40,724.45; C. W. Watson Construction company, of St. Louis, $9,173 for Fountain avenue; Ed Manion, of Henderson, $17,219.13 for Clay street only.

Miller Gets Contract.

The contract was awarded to A. J. Miller & Son as a whole, as the firm was the lowest on each street. Sales & Thompson had a low bid. Mr. Thomas Sales has done work in Paducah, but his bid on the curbing was too high to permit him to capture the work. The bid of A. J. Miller & Son was the lowest by $260.89.

The bid of the successful contractor was: Concrete sidewalks 11 4-9 square feet; driveway, 14 cents; granite curb, 81 cents; gutter, 25 cents; drain pipe, 20 cents; Sales & Thompson: Concrete sidewalks, 10 1/2 cents square foot; driveway, 14 1/2 cents; curb, 87 1/2 cents; gutter, 21 1/2 cents; drain pipe, 20 cents. Other bids were: W. M. Leftwich: Sidewalks, 12 7-10; driveway, 16 1/2 cents; curb, 81 1/2; gutter, 24 1/2; drain, 20; Meacham Construction company: Sidewalks 12 1-5; driveway, 15; curb, 84; gutter, 27; drain, 18; George W. Katter: Sidewalks, 12 2-5; driveway, 17; curb, 78 2-5; gutter, 26; drain, 29 1/2; J. D. McGee: Sidewalks, 19 95-100; driveway, 15; curb, 80; gutter, 37 1/2; drain, 30; Bigler Brothers: Sidewalks, 12 1/2; driveway, 14 1/2; curb, 76; gutter, 35; drain, 30; H. M. Weikel: Sidewalks, 12 1/2; driveway, 18; curb, 85; gutter, 28; drain, 35; George Gardner: Sidewalks, 13 1/2; driveway, 19 1/2; curb, 86; gutter, 27; drain, 18; Yancey & Johnson: Sidewalks, 16; driveway, 23; curb, 94; gutter, 27; drain, 20; Charles L. Robertson: Sidewalks, 15; driveway, 22 1/2; curb, 90; gutter, 41; drain, 25; Clair Butterworth: Sidewalks, 15; driveway, 20; curb, 81; gutter, 38; drain, 55; C. W. Watson Construction company: Sidewalks, 11; driveway, 30; curbing, 94; gutter, 30; drain, 40; Ed Manion: Sidewalks, 11 1/2; driveway, 16 1/2; curb, 93; gutter, 29 1/2; drain, 34.

The bids were diversified, but the board secured a low price and stands in contrast with former prices. However, the specifications were changed in order that a serviceable sidewalk might be secured at a lower price. Notwithstanding this, contractors agreed that the city received a low bid for the work.

The work was awarded to A. J. Miller & Son as a whole for the firm had in the lowest bid for the work on each street. Sixteen firms had in bids, ten being foreign firms. The bids were opened yesterday afternoon and a night session was held in order to give City Engineer L. A. Washington time to figure the bids. Present at the meeting were: President Richard Rudy, Secretary Louis Kolb and Mr. Finis Lack.

Walter Nichols Promoted. Walter Nichols, formerly a telegraph operator in the Paducah office of the Western Union Telegraph company, has been appointed manager of Sheffield, Ala., and has assumed charge. He left Paducah a few months ago for Memphis, where he was working when he received the promotion.

NATURE'S HAIR RESTORER

WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER

One Great Reason Why This Great Hair Beautifier and Color Restorer Produces Such Remarkable Results

Sulphur is a Natural Element of the Hair.

When there is not a sufficient amount of sulphur in the hair, it loses its life, color and strength, turns gray, and falls out. There are many forms of sulphur, but only one kind that is suitable for treatment of the hair and scalp; and that is the kind used in preparing WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER.

We Have the Secret, and We Give You the Benefit Of It At An Exceedingly Low Price

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair, and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

Daily Thought.

He that allows himself everything that is permitted is very near to that which is forbidden.—Augustine.

That was an ill-conceived figure that likened the Cook-Pearry controversy to a Kilkenny-cat affair. Polecat would be more significant.

Christmas is just one month, four weeks, 30 days ahead. You intend to do some shopping. If you shop early you will have more time, convenience and opportunity and a larger stock from which to select.

Ruth S. Dennis, who does the Hindoo dance in bronze paint, says she must depend upon the imagination of her audience in her interpretation of the poetry of motion. We presume the bronze paint is a concession to that portion of the audience lacking imagination.

The first copy of the Metropolis Daily Tribune reached our exchange desk today. If the editor of the newspaper continues to publish each day as newsy and attractive paper as the first issue, the "long felt want" of the Herrin Southern terminal will be well filled.

GOOD FOR BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS.

The Evening Sun feels justified in its demands for cheaper sidewalk work, and congratulates the board of public works and the city engineer on their success in reducing the cost of more than two miles of sidewalk on Twelfth and Clay streets and on Fountain avenue nearly $6,000, compared to heretofore prevailing prices for that kind of work. The requirements were altered slightly, without lessening the durability of the walks, and foreign bids were invited. The result has been to set a precedent of 11 4-9 cents a square foot for sidewalks as compared with a previous average of 16 cents. This alone makes a difference of $3,895 on the present contract, which will be saved to the property owners.

Comparisons of all the items show unvarying reductions. The cost of sidewalks was reduced from 16 or 17 to 11 4-9 cents; the cost of drive ways from 20 and 25 cents to 14 cents; the cost of curbing from 85 and 95 cents to 81 cents; the cost of gutters from 30 and 35 cents to 25 cents; and the cost of drain pipes from 30 cents to 20 cents. There are 97,390 feet of sidewalk; 7,210 feet of driveways; 17,660 feet of curbing; 17,580 feet of gutters, and 1,326 feet of pipe. Multiplying these dimensions by the difference in the cost per foot of each, gives a saving of $5,936.20 to the property owners.

But this is not enough. There were ten out-of-town bidders. More than that number secured specifications and left without bidding, when they learned that the contractor must collect the assessment from each property owner. If the general council had authority to issue special assessment bonds for such work, payable in ten years, and constituting a lien on the assessed property, so that the contractor could be paid a lump sum upon acceptance of the work, another $5,000, and possibly more, could be saved to the property owners. As the present success of the board of public works means that $5,936.20 will remain in possession of the people, who must pay for the sidewalks, more than would have remained under the old contract price; the issuance of bonds would mean that $10,000 would remain in their hands to be spent on improvements or among the retail dealers, or deposited in a bank to be loaned out to local industries.

Not only these property owners are benefitted, but the whole community is benefitted by such economies, and it behooves the citizens to urge upon the legislators the necessity of amending the charter so that these savings can be made. In years past property owners have spent not less than $25,000 more than necessary for such improvements. It discourages property owning and drugs the real estate market.

THE COLLEGE GAME.

While baseball is the game of the people, the national sport of the United States, baseball games even in the great cities cannot show the receipts that football commands under less favorable circumstances. Yale's receipts for three games this fall were $73,100, and her receipts for the season of a half dozen games amount to $80,000, out of which is deducted $45,000 for expenses, leaving a net profit of $35,000. Football is more spectacular and more thrilling than baseball. Besides, it is a society event, where youth reigns; bands of music play; trained "rooters" sing college songs and give their yells with abandon and precision; and the colors of rival camps, the gorgeous equipages of fraternities and societies and the general holiday air, make the scene on a college gridiron a spectacle of marvelous attractiveness. One, who has never witnessed the classic struggle between two old-time college rivals under such conditions, has missed something that lingers long in the memory of the college man.

THE GOOD ROADS AMENDMENT.

The automobile, scorned in its helpless infancy as a rich man's folly, and denounced in the next stage of its development as the chariot of plutocracy, and then looked upon as the destroyer of horse values, did not come to destroy the horse but to better his condition, and the rich man's folly has become a factor in civic development. Great reforms and changes in social relations depend upon development of means of communication, and the automobile is not only a space annihilator, but an exponent of better highways.

The automobile is responsible for the victory of the constitutional amendment, extending the credit of the state to counties for building highways. The rural precincts of the Purchase returned 5,000 majority against the bill. Louisville, Lexington and the Blue Grass counties, where they already have pikes and hundreds of automobiles, voted for it overwhelmingly. Jefferson county alone offsetting the Purchase vote. Even bloody Breathitt gave 2,800 majority for the amendment, indicating, perhaps, that Callahan will shortly desire to issue bonds on the credit of the state.

Louisville and Lexington papers made a fight for the amendment and their work showed. Henderson, Daviess and McCracken each returned an adverse majority on the proposition, showing that the people left to their own judgment in the matter were not carried away with the idea. We hope much good will come from the amendment; but enthusiasts must get rid of the notion that simply spending a lot of money makes good roads. There is enough potential graft in that amendment to bankrupt the state twice over.

STATE PRESS.

Press Agents of Illinois.

"Cairo is in Illinois," points out the Louisville Courier-Journal. And easily reached, therefore, by a mob of 500 men from—but let us avoid even the appearance of being sectional."—Chicago Tribune.

By a "party" from the other side of the river, one of the Courier-Journal's resident correspondents in western Kentucky was informed that the Cairo mob was led by 500 Kentuckians. That dispatch was published in the news columns, and it was moved that the next Kentucky legislature make an appropriation for a leather medal for the "party" in the event that the Illinois legislature should fail properly to reward an enterprising and worthy press agent of Illinois.

Every negro of reasonable intelligence knows which side of the Ohio river is the most hospitable to his race, all of the way from Louisville to Cairo, yet when a riot or race war occurs upon the virtuous soil of one of Kentucky's sister states on the other side of the river there is usually an attempt to make it appear that Kentucky outlaws led the mob.

The invention of the buckram who crossed over into Cairo from Ballard county was distinctly creditable to the perspicacity of the person who was responsible for it. The Courier-Journal has already congratulated him, and urged that Illinois should recognize the value of his services. Congratulations are also offered to Illinois.—Courier-Journal.

ERIE ROAD ELECTS OFFICERS.

New York, Nov. 24.—Charles A. Peabody was today elected a director of the Erie Railway to succeed the late E. H. Harriman. R. S. Lovett, president of the Union Pacific railway, was selected to fill the vacancy of the Erie executive committee.

John C. Stuart, who has been general manager of the Erie for several years, was promoted to vice president in charge of the operating, maintenance and mechanical departments.

The present executive officers were re-elected. Mr. Peabody was also elected a director of the New York, Susquehanna and Western railroad to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Harriman.

An executive committee composed of Mr. Peabody, President Underwood, Norman B. Ream, L. F. Loece, J. G. McCollough and G. A. Richardson, was appointed by the Erie board of directors.

SOME STORIES

AROUND TOWN

The Louisville Times says: "Judge Walter Evans, of the United States district court, ought to be in the diplomatic service, his friends say. He is known as a man of rare tact. The other afternoon Judge Evans had a gathering of Masonic brethren in his chamber at the customhouse. Before the meeting opened an outsider strayed into the room. The outsider showed no signs of going, and, as the meeting was a private one, the Masons began to wonder how the outsider was to be got rid of. Judge Evans was equal to the occasion. Approaching the intruder, he shook him warmly by the hand. 'Are you a Mason?' he asked. 'Sorry I'm not,' replied the outsider. 'Well,' observed the judge, 'I was going to say, if you were, we would be glad to have you remain.'"

LONGER HOURS TO FAVOR THE PEOPLE

Fisher Makes Important Announcement

The attention of Fisher, the Quaker health Teacher, has been called to the fact that a great many people desire to meet him, but cannot do so because they are employed during the regular business hours of the day. For the benefit of such people, he has decided to remain at McPherson's drug store each night, commencing tonight, until 9 o'clock. This will give everybody an opportunity to talk to him. The crowds are growing larger each day, and already a number of people are making enthusiastic reports as to the relief they have found in the use of the Quaker remedies. Reports from people who were suffering from catarrh, rheumatism, kidney, liver and stomach troubles are simply amazing. Fisher said today, when asked regarding these reports from people who have seen using the Quaker Remedies the past week or so may create astonishment amongst the public, but more remarkable cases may be expected during the coming week. I promised when I came here to prove to the people of Paducah that the Quaker remedies had wonderful curative powers, and before I leave, the public may judge for themselves whether or not I have kept my promises."

One very prominent man, who will not allow the use of his name publicly, said Saturday: "I have been a sufferer from kidney and stomach trouble for three or four years. I have gotten so disgusted with my trials of all the cure-alls that came along, that I had just about decided to give up all hopes of ever getting the right cure for my case. But I have received more benefit than I ever had previously by the use of all the other remedies put together. I know now that I am going to be cured, and may God bless your wonderful medicine."

Fisher proves what he says.

ASTOR'S YACHT

HEARD FROM IN A ROUNDABOUT WAY.

Was at San Juan and His Friends Are Encouraged About Report of Storm.

New York, Nov. 24.—Col. John Jacob Astor; his son, Vincent; their guests and crew of the steam yacht Nourmahal, are safe, somewhere on the Porto Rican coast—probably in the harbor of Ponce. Positive word reached New York that the Nourmahal was seen in the harbor at San Juan last Wednesday evening, Nov. 17. At that time Col. Astor was planning to sail for Ponce, and as his vessel was several days after the hurricane had passed over the southern waters, no fears are entertained for the safety of the big yacht and all on board.

It was a freighter of the Insular line which brought the word, the Harry Luckenbach, which sailed from San Juan on the night of Nov. 17, loaded with fruit consigned to this port.

Making a fast run, considering weather conditions, the Harry Luckenbach slipped past Sandy Hook in the rain this morning, and at 2 o'clock she was warped into her berth at pier 2, South Brooklyn. A round-faced man in oilskins looked down from the bridge in some surprise. It is not often that the captain of a freighter finds a dozen newspaper men waiting to interview him.

Mystery Vanishes.

"Any word of the Nourmahal?" he was hailed.

Captain Jim Dalton removed his cigar and leaned over the rail.

"Have you seen Col. Astor's yacht?"

"Sure," said the captain. "What about her? She was in San Juan last Wednesday night, and I guess the colonel was all right. The chief engineer saw him riding in an automobile."

In this commonplace fashion the mystery of the Southern seas vanishes in thin air.

Chief Engineer A. L. Emery, of the Harry Luckenbach, made it even stronger.

"I was ashore on Wednesday afternoon about 5 o'clock," said he. "I was just coming out of a cigar store when I saw an automobile coming up Teutian street, and in the car was Col. Astor. Know him? I ought to. I worked for him thirteen years ago on the Nourmahal. He was looking fine, too."

Storm Reports Exaggerated.

The Nourmahal arrived in San Juan on the afternoon of the 14th, which was Sunday. She came from Mayaguez, Porto Rico, and the crew of the Harry Luckenbach heard that the big yacht was being overhauled before sailing for Ponce on the 19th.

The crew of the Luckenbach report no unusually bad weather in southern waters.

"We went all around the island," said Chief Engineer Emery. "It blew a bit and it didn't do the tobacco plantations any good, but from what I have heard, reports of the storm published in the papers have been exaggerated."

This report is in absolute confirmation with the cable message received from Capt. Purst, of the Caracas, of the Red Dominion Line. He reported from Willemstad, Curacao, that the Nourmahal was in San Juan harbor on November 15.

Wireless Men Relieved.

Outside of Col. Astor's family and friends those most relieved by the word brought from San Juan are the wireless operators of the United Wireless Telegraph company. Since noon on Saturday the wireless people have been working constantly in an attempt to locate the Nourmahal, and one operator sat at his key for forty-eight hours, trying to get an answer from the government wireless station at San Juan.

The seat of the trouble seems to have been in the San Juan station, which, being under government supervision, does not come under the control of either the United States wireless or the Marconi systems.

A ship owner, who has had occasion to use the wireless to San Juan, made this statement today:

"The trouble is that the San Juan wireless station is about as free and easy a place as a gentleman's club. They seem to have no regular time for doing anything and often the station is deserted for hours together."

"If this charge is true, it explains in part the difficulty of the various wireless stations in getting any sort of word from San Juan within the past two days. State conditions are responsible for the rest of the trouble."

"S. O. S." Signal Sent.

On last Saturday morning William A. Dobbins, secretary to the Astor estate, called the wireless to his aid. The long silence of Col. Astor had begun to cause extreme anxiety on the part of his business friends and personal associates.

At noon on Saturday the great signal of distress—a call more potent than the famous "C. D. Q."—was sent out from the general offices of the United Wireless company at 42 Broadway. Whenever a wireless operator hears the call "S. O. S." all work must cease until he assures himself that the call is not directed to him. If no correspondent is called, then each wireless station is bound to answer the national distress signal.

The great "S. O. S." message was addressed to all and stations of the United Wireless, Atlantic and Gulf Division; all United Fruit stations and all United Wireless on shipboard. The message asked for information concerning the steam yacht Nourmahal and directed that every effort be made to locate the yacht.

Many Made Answer.

Five minutes after this message was sent up to the operating room the first answer came. Before the hatter's station had a chance to relay the "S. O. S." message, the steam ship Bermudian, 500 miles from New York, was acknowledging the message. The second ship to answer was the Tagus 625 miles from Sandy Hook, and soon the receivers were clattering with the "O. K.'s" of the ships. Twenty-four answered that first message and not one of them had heard anything of the Nourmahal.

S. W. Hance, in charge of the powerful wireless station at Tampa, was instructed to spare no effort or expense in getting an answer from San Juan. In the meantime Capt. Purst's message had been received, stating that the Nourmahal was in San Juan on the 15th of the month.

BEAUTIFUL WHITE FUR OF A STRANGE ANIMAL

Mr. Joe Styers, of Oaks Station, was in the city today showing to his friends an animal which he trapped yesterday. It is supposed to be a white coon; but its head is shaped like that of a fox and every hair on the animal's body is a beautiful white. The animal was trapped by Mr. Styers and in trapping it not even the skin was broken, only the front leg which had been caught in the trap. Mr. Styers is a trapper, but does not know the value of the skin. He has been offered $25 for it.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Irvin Cobb's Story.

Irvin Cobb's story, "The Escape of Mr. Trimm" appears in this week's issue of the Saturday Evening Post. Those who considered Mr. Cobb's talents limited to the George Ade style of newspaper humor, will be surprised at "The Escape of Mr. Trimm." It is quite the most excellent example of simple narrative appearing in the Post for months.

President of Woman's Federated Clubs in Louisville.

The president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Philip N. Moore, of St. Louis, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Moore will arrive in Louisville Tuesday and will be the guest of Mrs. George C. Avery during their stay.

In the evening at 8 o'clock Mrs. Moore will deliver a lecture in the Woman's club building on the "Panama Canal." The lecture is open and free to the public, and all those interested in the subject are cordially invited to hear Mrs. Moore.

In addition to her charming personality as a speaker, Mrs. Moore is rarely qualified to speak entertainingly on the subject of the Panama canal. She went to the Panama canal zone, accompanied by her daughter, who is a practical civil engineer, with letters from President Taft and Col. Roosevelt to those in charge of the work on the canal.

Every courtesy possible was extended to Mrs. Moore, and she has a vast fund of information at her command.

Miss Moore will illustrate her mother's lecture with stereoscopic slides, made from excellent photographs taken by herself during her visit to the isthmus.

As her subject is of vital importance, and as the Woman's club has generously extended an invitation to the citizens of Louisville to be present, Mrs. Moore no doubt will be greeted by a large and interested audience. —Louisville Evening Post.

DIFFERENT STORIES ARE TOLD

A story hour for the young children was held this afternoon at the Carnegie library. Miss Vera Johnston, the assistant librarian, told the young people a number of Thanksgiving Day stories, and the hour was enjoyed.

Beautiful Matinee Dance.

One of the prettiest of the pre-nuptial honors paid to Miss Lillian Gregory, was the matinee dance Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 6 o'clock at the Woman's club building. The hostesses were Miss Rosebud Hobson and Miss Lillian Hobson. The club house was a bower of ferns and palms. Smilax was used with effect on the walls and mistletoe was suspended in the doorways and from the chandeliers.

It was a program dance and the distribution of the programs was made the pretty opening figure. Miss Lillian Gregory gave the men's programs out and Miss Rosebud Hobson the programs to the girls. The adjournment to the supper room upstairs was also made a graceful figure dance, in closing.

The supper was an attractively served salad course with ices. The dining room was prettily appointed. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Neil Robinson, of Charleston, West Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Scott, Fort Worth, Tex.; Mrs. W. H. Saltee, of Danville; Mrs. O. W. Hicks, of Macon, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gregory, Mrs. Dunn, of Macon, Ga., Mr. and Mrs. Edeon Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wellie, Mr. and Mrs. David Koger, Misses Lillian Gregory, Rebecca Reed, of Arkansas, Louise Robinson, of West Virginia, Elsie Dandridge, Frankfort, Aline Baker, St. Louis, Mary Hood, of Minneapolis, Virginia King, Dyersburg, Tenn., Velda King, of Dyersburg, Hughes, Faith Langstaff, Kathleen Quigley, Helen Hills, Mary Scott, Myrtle Decker, Messrs. Maury Robinson, of Charleston, Carol Robinson, of Charleston, Dick Price, of Charleston, John Carver, of Charleston, Flickers Irvine, of Charleston, Withers Adams, of Charleston, Denver Cornett, of Frankfort, Emmett O'Neal, of Louisville, John Miller, Jr., Stewards Sennott, Dr. I. B. Howell, Douglas Bagby, Charles Kopt, Jr., Hugh Bohannon, Warren Sights, James Langstaff, Wallace Weil.

Miss McCandless' Attractive Club Party for Visiting Girls.

Miss Hazel McCandless entertained in a most delightful manner on Tuesday afternoon the young ladies' Euchre club in compliment to Miss Lucy Dyer, of Sturgis, Ky., the guest of Miss Nelia Hatfield. It was a charmingly appointed affair and the Thanksgiving idea was prettily elaborated in the tally cards and in the beautiful course luncheon. The house was effectively decorated with chrysanthemums throughout in a color-motif of yellow and white.

The tallies were miniature turkeys. The club prize for the game score was won by Miss Nell Hendrick. It was a hand-painted bon bon dish. The lone-hand club prize, a hand-painted plate, went to Miss Nell Shaw. Miss Dyer's guest of honor prize was a pretty hand-embroidered pin cushion. Miss Manie Cobb captured the lone-hand prize for the visitors, which was a hand-painted plate.

Miss McCandless' guests were: Miss Dyer, of Sturgis; Misses Nelia Hatfield, Manie Cobb, Faith Langstaff, Marjorie Loving, Philippa Hughes, Anna Hill, Myrtle Decker, Sadie Paxton, Mrs. Percy Paxton, and the following members of the club: Misses Corinne Winstead, Gertrude Scott, Willie May Rascoe, Nell Shaw, Mabel

CHIEF COLLINS WANTS THE BOOKS INSPECTED

"I am certainly the most enthusiastic citizen in Paducah for an inspection of the city books," said Chief of Police Collins this morning. "I don't know whether The Evening Sun or a member of the board of councilmen is most responsible, but I can hardly count the number of people who asked if it was me the demand for an inspection is aimed at. I understand your attitude—you were just calling attention to the effect of the council's action, and I don't believe the councilmen had any body in particular in mind; but, just the same, under the circumstances, I wish they would go ahead and inspect the books, this sort of thing touches a man's pride, and I know my books are all right, and suppose the rest of them are, too."

Coleman-Pettit Wedding at Murray.

In Murray this morning at 8:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's grandfather, Mr. J. C. McElrath, Miss Rella Coleman, of this city, and Mr. Duke Pettit were united in marriage. It was a quiet home wedding, yet marked with much charm and detail. The couple left immediately after the ceremony on a southern wedding journey, and will be at home in Princeton, Ky. A number of Paducah and Princeton friends of the popular bride attended the wedding. Out-of-town guests were entertained with a delightful supper at the Murray hotel last evening by Mrs. Robert Coleman, the mother of the bride.

Gregory-Robinson Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Lillian Gregory to Mr. Maury Robinson, of Charleston, W. Va., will be solemnized tonight at 8:30 at the First Christian church. The Rev. David Cady, Wright, rector of Grace Episcopal church, will pronounce the ceremony. Cards issued with the invitation are to be presented at the door. A reception at the Gregory home, on North Eighth street, from 9 to 11 o'clock will follow the ceremony. It will be a most brilliant social event.

Former Paducahan to Marry in Arkansas.

Invitations have been received in Paducah to the approaching marriage of Mr. Julius L. Harris, of Cairo, Ill., but formerly of Paducah, and Miss Hattie Friedheim, of Camden, Ark. The wedding will be solemnized on Thursday evening, December 9, at 6 o'clock at the Beth El Emeth Temple, Camden. There will be a swell dinner from 7 until 9 o'clock at the Quachita club, following the ceremony. Cards to this are enclosed with the invitations.

Mr. Harris is a son of Mrs. L. Harris, 326 North Fifth street, and is widely known in Paducah, where he is very popular. Mrs. Mike Michael, of North Seventh street, is a sister. Mr. Harris has a harness and saddle house in Cairo, and he has established a successful business. His fiancée is an attractive young woman belonging to a prominent family of Camden. She is the daughter of Mrs. Melanie Friedheim. The couple will not come to Paducah on their bridal trip, but will visit in the city later in the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kahn, of Cairo, and Miss Flora Harris, of Paducah, will attend the wedding. Mrs. Kahn and Miss Harris are sisters of Mr. Harris.

SIX PEOPLE KILLED IN TENEMENT BLAZE

New York, Nov. 24.—Four-story tenement house was burned in Brooklyn early today. Firemen are searching the ruins and say the death toll will reach six, while 14 are injured, four probably fatally. All the dead and injured are Italians. Fire Marshal Brophy believes it was incendiary. There were many thrilling rescues. Firemen were compelled to take nearly all out by scaling ladders. Several mothers were frantic and dropped their babies out of windows, but fortunately all were caught safely by the firemen and volunteers.

BENJAMIN CABLE WILL SUCCEED MR. HARG

Washington, Nov. 24.—Benjamin S. Cable, a Chicago attorney, will succeed Ormsby McHarg as assistant secretary of the department of commerce and labor, according to the statement of Senator Cullom, of Illinois, who called at the white house today to bring President Taft documentary endorsement of Cable's candidacy.

The appointment of Cable was announced this morning. He is a bachelor and a graduate of Yale. For a number of years he was chief counsel for the Rock Island railroad. He retired to private practice in Chicago.

FIRE

Yelled Chicago Policeman, as He Rushed Into Theater.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—A panic in the Grand opera house was averted when attaches stopped and restrained a policeman who ran into the foyer and tried to enter the auditorium, shouting "Fire! There's fire in the building."

An announcement was made from the stage that the hotel adjoining was a fire and that the audience was temporarily dismissed. The theater was emptied quietly and the fire was found to be inconsequential, so the performance was resumed.

Can't Fool Anty Drudge.

Glib Soap Convoys—'I'm representing a new naphtha soap. Let me leave you a cake for trial. It's the best laundry soap you can try, and far ahead of what you're using.'

Anty Drudge—"Is that so? See here young fellow. There are no substitutes for Fels-Naptha soap, no more'n there is for an honest dollar. You can't bunco me with a worthless imitation of the genuine Fels-Naptha."

Four million hours at least of hard disagreeable work are saved the women of this nation every week by Fels-Naptha soap. That is 208 million hours, or 26 million working days of 8 hours each every year.

Isn't that a record for Fels-Naptha to be proud of? Then there's the saving in health, in the wear of clothes, and in lots of other ways as well. More than a million women are using Fels-Naptha every wash-day.

It takes Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water about half the time it would take by the old-fashioned hot-water way. Try it next wash-day yourself. Soap your white clothes with Fels-Naptha, roll them and let them soak for 30 minutes. Then give a light rub, rinse thoroughly, and hang on the line.

No hot fire to blister your face, no steaming suds to scald your hands, no nauseating smell about the house, no back-breaking work over the washboard. Isn't it worth trying?

Directions for washing all kinds of clothes, and many other uses of Fels-Naptha, on inside of the red and green wrapper. Follow them carefully.

In the Laundry.

Strictly speaking, soap is the only chemical that should be used in a first-class laundry, but most laundries find it necessary to use caustic or washing soda to soften down the water. Sometimes in order to whiten the clothes a bleach is put in. Such is usually chloride of lime, but in case of wine, iron or fruit stains, either oxalic acid or chloride of tin comes in handy. Many patent laundry preparations are used to whiten clothes accidentally stained at the home or in laundering. All these chemicals do little or no harm provided the laundryman understands the use of the chemical and weakens it right, but the most important of all is that the bleach should all be washed out at once with fresh water.—New York Press.

INDISPENSABLE MAN IS ADEE

THE SECOND ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF STATE.

Diplomat of Tact and Authority on All Questions of the Convention.

HE IS QUICK IN RESPONSE.

Washington, Nov. 23. (United Press.)—The only man in Uncle Sam's pay who is absolutely indispensable to the government!

Alvey Augustus Adee is his alliterative appellation, and he is second assistant secretary of state. His is the omniscient intellect that guides the United States government through the intricacies of international diplomacy; the universal encyclopedia of knowledge of world politics; the repository of more state secrets than that of any one human being.

Besides all this, he is the most interesting, lovable and yet, at times, irascible, public man now in the government service. Another Boswell will be needed adequately to chronicle his career. No man in Washington is productive of more stories than A. A. Adee—a new one crops up every day—and all of them are good. Personally he is a slight wisp of a man, with a gray imperial beard and mustache stained by devotion to My Lady Nicotine. His shoulders are stooped, and he walks nervously in short, choppy steps, his feet turned out like a drum major's. He has a quizzical, kindly face, and looks at his interviewers from underneath scrunched eyebrows, with his head bent forward. He has the French trick of shrugging his shoulders. The Adee laugh is characteristic. No one ever heard anything like it. It starts with a chuckle, increases in volume to a cackling, and subsides to a series of sly "tee hee's."

Born with a congenital throat defect that deprived him of the power of his vocal chords, and with only rudimentary ear drums that have forced him to go through life deaf, Adee triumphed through sheer force of will and over-mastering intellectual abilities. He taught himself to speak, although lacking the hard palate which in the average throat is the sounding board, so to speak, of the human voice. He was educated as an architect, but abandoned that profession to enter the diplomatic service as secretary of the legation at Madrid, Spain, in 1870, having already mastered the language of the Don. Since that time, incidentally, he has "picked up," as he modestly puts it, French, German, Italian and a smattering of several other tongues.

He has been in the state department as an under secretary since 1886; he will be there until he dies. No one can take his place. He is absolutely unique.

If Secretary of State Knox wants to write a letter to Ambassador Sordani, impressing a bald and brutal fact, it is Secretary Adee who takes that fact, blunts its sharpness with the punctilious persiflage demanded by international etiquette and envelopes it in a foliage of choice diplomatic phraseology. Then Knox signs it.

If President Taft is giving a reception to the members of the diplomatic corps, it is Alvey A. Adee who can reel off without an instant's hesitation the exact position every foreign representative should occupy in the line, according to his rank and the precedence of his nation.

He knows international law, court ceremonies, world politics, the Monroe doctrine, all the treaties, economic conditions in every civilized nation, and the history of every individual who amounts to anything in every quarter of the globe. He's the official "Who's Who," as well as "What's What."

Adee began studying early in life, and now at the age of 67, still burns the midnight incandescent. He is a bicycle crank—incidentally even his vacations are a mixture of business and pleasure, a bicycle ride through Europe every summer—an amateur photographer of no mean ability, a botanist, a scientist, archaeologist and artist in sympathy at least.

His room at the state department is the most wonderful mixture of conglomerate odds and ends imaginable. A microscope rests on one table; photographic apparatus on another; books on his desk, the floor, in shelves—everywhere. He brews and drinks tea incessantly, and smokes little black cigars in a discolored keepschum and amber holder. He keeps two brands of cigars in his desk—a box of good ones for himself and some 10 or 15 cents for visitors. However, when he offers you one, he'll remark naively, "You needn't smoke it if you don't like it."

He is subject to irascible "brain storms" and has even been known to throw books at those who particularly tried his temper; but an hour or so later invariably becomes repentant and makes peace with the offender by a present of one of the good cigars, and a funny story.

To a woman stenographer who had presented to him a letter for signature with the word "the" written "there," Adee addressed the written memorandum "the not 'there'—too much 'a'."

A department clerk once crossed Adee's path with a cornob pipe in his mouth. The second assistant sec-

Epilepsy, Fits

"My son was cured of a very bad case of epilepsy with Dr. Miles' Nerveine."

MRS. D. BAKER, Cleveland, O.
"My little daughter who was afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance is now entirely well after taking Dr. Miles' Nerveine only four months."

MRS. C. G. BENNETT, Alma, Mich.

Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance and Spasms, are all nervous diseases. They have been cured in so many instances with Dr. Miles' Nerveine that it is reasonable to conclude that it is almost sure to cure you. With nervous diseases of a severe type, persistent use has almost invariably resulted in a complete cure or lasting benefits, worth many times the cost of the remedy. The best evidence you can get of its merits is to write to those who have used it. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

retary stopped him and looked quizzically at the pipe.

"I see you are a baseball fiend," he observed.

"Why so, Mr. Adee," demanded the clerk.

"Aren't you smoking a Cobb pipe?" retorted Adee, chuckling.

On a letter to Mr. Ou, of the Chinese legation, Adee planned a slip of paper with the facetious comment "Oh you Ou."

To a crowd of newspaper men one day, when in a particularly fine humor he remarked that he understood that meals at the north pole were very irregular.

"Why?" bit a scribe.

"Well," answered Adee, grinning in his beard, "they're only Cooked Pearyodically."

Mr. Adee is never quoted directly. That is an unwritten rule of the corps of correspondents here. Safe in this promise, the second assistant secretary of state often delves into his store of wisdom and yields up bulky "stories." Generally the "high source at the state department," or "responsible official" on whose word "it is understood at the state department,"—those are the phrases most frequently seen, by the way, in the newspapers printing news from the state department—is Mr. Alvey A. Adee.

A department clerk once called up Mr. Adee's office to ascertain just how the second assistant secretary of state should be addressed and his full name.

"His name is A. A. Adee," said the state department employee.

"Spell it out in full."

"A," said the voice at the state department.

"Yes."

"A."

"What?"

"A."

"Y-yes."

"A."

"Oh, hell," exclaimed the exasperated inquirer, as he banged up the receiver.

Alley, of Beales, Me., "for, after having used ten bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, and seeing its excellent results in my own family and others, I am convinced it is the best medicine made for Coughs, Colds and lung trouble." Every one who tries it fees just that way. Relief is felt at once and its quick cure surprises you. For Bronchitis, Asthma, Hemorrhage, Croup, LaGrippe, Sore Throat, pain in the chest or lungs it's supreme. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by all druggists.

DOBBINS HELD GUILTY IN FAKE HORSE RACE CASE.

Council Bluffs, Ia., Nov. 24.—The jury in the case of John R. Dobbin, on trial for grand larceny, in connection with the loss by T. W. Bal-ew, a Princeton (Mo.) banker, of $30,000 on a "fake" horse race in this city more than a year ago, returned a verdict of guilty shortly after midnight.

HEIRESS AND FATHER FLEE

WILD RACE ABOUT CHICAGO A FEATURE OF STRUGGLE.

Grandmother Claims Guardianship Over Seven-Year-Old Who Inherits Nearly Half Million.

AUTOS WIN OVER DEPUTIES.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—A wild race about Chicago in automobiles by deputy sheriffs in search of a seven-year-old girl heiress and her father, into whose custody the child was given by a circuit judge, was won in the end by the fleeing father and daughter, who were thought to be on their way to the father's home in the east.

This incident marked the latest developments in a legal fight for the possession of Kathryn A. Good, daughter of Henry F. Good, of Lock-haven, Pa. The mother of the girl, Mrs. Anna Hoxie Good, who was divorced from her husband several months ago, was killed in an automobile accident near Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 15. At the time of Mrs. Good's death, the child's grandmother, Mrs. John R. Hoxie, of this city, was made guardian of the girl's estate, which is valued at about $400,000.

No sooner had the girl been given into her father's care than her grandmother secured from Judge Windes, of the circuit court, a writ enjoining Good from taking the child out of Illinois. Services of deputy sheriffs were secured by the grandmother in order to serve the papers on Good, but after the deputies had whisked from one hotel and railroad station to another, without finding him, they were compelled to admit their defeat.

Mrs. Hoxie avers that she was legally appointed guardian of the girl by the probate court, and that the father has no legal right to the child.

DEBATE ON THE ENGLISH BUDGET

CONTINUED IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS LAST NIGHT.

Some Will Not Vote When Lansdowne's Rejection Motion is Put to Vote—Interest Attaches to

STATEMENT OF LORD PENTLAND

London, Nov. 24.—The budget debate last night was principally remarkable as showing the likelihood of a number of peers, in the free trade interest, declining to support Lord Lansdowne's rejection motion, although opposing the budget on general lines. These peers will abstain from voting. Lord Pentland, secretary for Scotland, warned the peers that the house of commons could not be expected to find a way out of the difficulty created by the rejection of the budget. This statement created the greatest interest, as it had been supposed that the government might yield to the lords in the matter of adopting temporary financial measures to meet the situation arising out of the budget's rejection. Many liberal members of parliament had expressed their determination to oppose any bill authorizing the continuance of the existing taxation until after the dissolution of parliament.

Lord Pentland declared that the government was done forever with the old state of things, and that the constitution and character of the house of lords must be modified. He also reminded the house that a long constitutional struggle might handicap the country in case of war, and asked the lords to consider whether the penalty would not be disproportionate to the offense.

Earl Russell predicted that the adoption of the Lansdowne resolution would start a revolution that sooner or later would bring a readjustment that would leave the house of lords powerless.

Lord Avebury declared that the budget would frighten the capital out of the country, cripple enterprise and create a feeling of insecurity.

The house of commons this evening discussed the compromise reached with the house of lords over the Irish land bill. Redmond and Dillon and other nationalists hotly denounced the lords and Birrell, chief secretary for Ireland, for consenting to the compromise and threatened the government with reprisals. Despite the opposition of the Irishmen, the amendments carried.

His Left Hand Hurt.

While playing with a pistol yesterday afternoon Oscar Decker, 11 years old, son of Charles Decker, of Tenth and Finley streets, accidentally discharged it, and the ball tore its way into his left hand, shattering several small bones. City Physician W. J. Bass dressed the injury and the boy was sent to Riverside hospital for treatment.

THROAT MISERY.

Read How a Boston Man Got Rid of Chronic Throat Disease.

"Hyomel did me a world of good when I had chronic laryngitis; in fact effected a cure after all the best specialists had given me up as a bad job. I tried Hyomel the same as I had tried hundreds of other things that people or doctors would recommend. They all failed except Hyomel, and this effected a cure that has been lasting. All my troubles happened 12 years ago and I had ought to be ashamed not to have written you before. At first I waited to see if the cure was permanent or not, and when you realize that for five winters before I used Hyomel that I could not speak above a whisper and sometimes not at all, and you can judge why I waited with a good deal of anxiety for time to tell if I was really cured or not."—E. A. Lindsay, 145 South street, Boston, Mass., April 1, 1909.

Breathe Hyomel in through the inhaler that comes with a $1.00 outfit, and this highly healing and antiseptic vaporized air will promptly relieve and permanently cure catarrh and all ordinary diseases of the nose and bronchial tubes. It gives great relief to consumptives. Sold by leading dealers everywhere and in Paducah by W. J. Gilbert.

STANDARD OIL
TAKE ITS APPEALHAS NO INTENTION OF SEEKING
AMENDMENT.Remarks By Elliott Says Company
Will Await Verdict of Supreme Court Before Taking Steps

TOWARD THE REORGANIZATION

New York, Nov. 24.—The Standard Oil company announced that it had no intention of seeking to procure an amendment to the Sherman anti-trust law, but will proceed with the appeal from the St. Paul decision to the United States supreme court.

Mortimer F. Elliott, the company's general solicitor, after a conference with William G. Rockefeller and John D. Archbold, said: "We will await the verdict of the supreme court before we take any steps toward a reorganization or a new state of the case to the public. The court has the first rights."

"It seems highly improbable to me that there will ever be any foreign holding company organized. The complexity of control exercised by several states sets too many difficulties in the way."

"Such comment on the case as I have seen misses the fact that the Standard Oil company is not a holding company pure and simple, as was the Northern Securities company. For instance, it owns outright at Bayonne, N. J., the largest refinery in the world. There is nothing in the decree to prevent the company continuing business, although I admit it makes doing business more cumbersome."

"Although the decree enjoins the company from voting its shareholdings in subsidiary companies, or receiving dividends from them, there is no reason why individual holders among such shares would be divided under the decree, should not elect their own officers in the subsidiary companies and receive their own dividends from them. A proxy system among our five thousand shareholders certainly would be no more unmanageable than the same system used by the railroads and industrial companies, with, say 50,000 shareholders."

"In brief, there is no cause for the market to fear the forced liquidation of the securities the Standard Oil company now holds. I disagree with the gentlemen who think such redistribution is necessary."

STOMACH TROUBLE CURED

Robt. A. Hays & Co.—I had a stomach trouble and constipation for four years and could not find anything that would relieve me. I could not eat anything except oatmeal and rice, but what would hurt me, so I tried Hays' Specific and had not used it more than two weeks till I could eat anything I wanted without pain. I used one bottle and have never been bothered with my stomach since and it was two years after his. I believe it to be a good family medicine.

GOOD COLLECTION

SECRETARY OF STATE KNOX IS MAKING A RECORD.His "Please Remit" Notes to Central and South America Effective.

Washington, Nov. 23. (United Press).—Secretary Knox is rapidly achieving distinction as a collector of bad national debts. For the first time in many decades Central and South American countries who have gone gaily on making history without giving much attention to office details are beginning to look back over the old files to see whether or not there is anything owing American citizens. If there is, it is to be expected that a new statement will be forthcoming from Washington with the postscript, "Please remit. Knox."

For this reason there is apprehension among the delinquents. The old familiar defense that the United States is disturbing the peace of these nations and bullying them into paying questionable claims no longer serves as a shibboleth for the hapless ones. The United States is the most patient of creditors. Nor can the cry that it is preparing to swallow up the smaller countries find response. Former secretaries of state have gone to great lengths in assuring the Latin-American republics that the United States has no desire to add to its outlying territories. The course of action followed in Cuba set the seal on this policy.

So earnestly was this program of persuasion carried out that some of the republics grew very careless, feeling that the United States would not mar that splendid design of Pan-American progress by taking up a paltry claim of a million or two on behalf of some American citizen who had been ousted from concessions or run out of a country after his property had been confiscated.

There came a time for discrimination and Secretary Knox discriminated. He singled out Nicaragua first as the most conspicuous of the countries which ignored its bills. After some futile negotiations Secretary Knox sent a very curt note saying "pay up or arbitrate in thirty days or take the consequences." The note was startling and quite unlike the United States which had been patient to the point of lethargy. The claim was paid—amounting, all told, to nearly a million dollars.

Secretary Knox then turned to Panama, where the police had a fashion of assaulting and mauling American sailors. The result was that the little republic paid $25,000 to some that had been mistreated and to the relatives of one American who was killed.

A short time ago Honduras and Salvador who had played a high hand with an American banker were politely told to explain and pay damages. Within the last week Chile has been given ten days within which to settle a claim that has been standing thirty years or arbitrate it. If there is no action, Chile will be black-listed.

There are many more old claims in the departmental files. These are being dug out of their dusty places of repose and are being furnished up for the inspection and consideration of Mr. Knox, collector of national bad debts.

NEW COURSES OF STUDY FOR KENTUCKY SCHOOLS.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 24.—Domestic science, manual training and elementary agriculture will be taught next year in many of the public schools of Kentucky. State Superintendent of Public Instruction Crabbe reported on his return from Richmond, that classes will be started at the Eastern and Western Normal schools in these three branches at the January term. Domestic science and manual training are being taught at the Eastern Kentucky Normal school at Richmond and domestic science and elementary agriculture at the Western Normal school at Bowling Green. The manual training department is in the rooms over the power plant at the Eastern Kentucky Normal school and was opened yesterday for the first time.

HOLMES AND WATSON HASTEN
IN AUTOMOBILE.But If They Found a Clue They Are Keeping It a Secret.

Mayor Smith and Richard Rudy assumed the roles of Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson last night. While they were in the police station waiting for the board of public works meeting a telephone message was received that a burglar was trying to break into the residence of Mrs. George O. Hart, 905 Jefferson street. A policeman was not at the station, but Mayor Smith and Mr. Rudy were equal to the occasion. They jumped into Mr. Rudy's automobile and went whizzing to the scene. After searching the premises no evidence of a burglar could be found.

Lived 152 Years.

Wm. Parr—England's oldest man—married the third time at 120, worked in the fields till 132 and lived 20 years longer. People should be youthful at 80, James Wright, of Spurlock, Ky., shows how to remain young. "I feel just like a 16-year-old boy," he writes, "after taking six bottles of Electric Bitters. For thirty years kidney trouble made life a burden, but the first bottle of this wonderful medicine convinced me I had found the greatest cure on earth. They're a godsend to weak, sickly, rundown or old people. Try them. 50c at all druggists."

TRAINMAN'S GALLANTRY OF TWO VIGOROUS KIND.

Alleging she sustained injuries by being jerked from the platform of a coach, Mrs. O. L. Hatch filed suit against the Illinois Central railroad for $2,000. In her petition she recites that she was a passenger on a train between Hopkinsville and Princeton on September 17, 1909, and that she was dismounting from the coach when an employe, in assisting her to the ground, did so violently that she was injured. She alleges her injuries were internal and seeks to recover damages.

A Promise to Pay

Would you accept a stranger's note? No. Then why accept from a stranger any other promise to pay? A Fire Insurance policy is such a promise. Ought you to accept it without knowing all about the Company? Your usual business confidence is based on knowledge. Why make an exception in that part of your business which deals with insurance? A name is worth nothing on any kind of a promise to pay unless it is backed by character and resources.

We favor insurance knowledge, particularly about our companies. Their promises to pay have never gone to protect. Their obligations to its policy holders are backed with such a good reputation and such ample financial resources that the more you know about them the more you will want protection by their policies.

PADUCAH IS THE BEST MARKET you will find anywhere near you. This is easily proven by a comparison of the stocks of Paducah merchants, and the prices. The big fall stocks are now on display, showing complete assortments in every line. Paducah merchants undersell Memphis, St. Louis, Evansville or Louisville or nearby cities, as is shown every day by the increasing number of people who come here to buy. Everybody is treated courteously and fair. All prominent Paducah merchants are members of the Retail Merchants' Association, which has an arrangement by which if you buy a certain amount of goods your round trip railroad or steamboat fare is refunded.

If your purchases do not entitle you to a refund of the entire round trip fare, you get a fair part back. Always buy a round trip ticket, as the secretary, D. E. WILSON, 313 Broadway, must see your return ticket.

YALE BEST IN SEVEN YEARS

NO ELEVEN GOT INSIDE THE BLUE'S 20-YARD LINE.

Yale, Lafayette and N. Y. U. Squads Were Unbeaten in the East—Some Fine Points.

GOAL IS UNCROSSED IN 1909

New York, Nov. 24.—Yale closed her season with the fine record of 209 points to none for opponents. No team got inside Yale's 20-yard line. Yale, N. Y. U. and Lafayette are the unbeaten teams of the season, with Yale the only one to win all of its games. The total scores follow:

Harvard, 103—17 (nine games); Yale, 209—0 (ten games); Princeton, 101—50 (nine games); Pennsylvania, 129—32 (nine games); Cornell, 60—48 (seven games); Navy, 99—36 (eight games); Dartmouth, 88—18 (eight games); Brown, 96—55 (nine games); Lafayette, 171—12 (seven games); Carleton, 211—94 (eleven games); Fordham, 87—17 (seven games); New York University, 140—18 (seven games); Syracuse, 105—95 (nine games); Pittsburgh, 94—17 (seven games); Lehigh, 77—72 (eight games); Holy Cross, 41—43 (eight games); Bowdoin, 70—50 (nine games); Franklin and Marshall, 159—16 (eight games); Stevens, 29—131 (six games); Trinity, 139—19 (eight games); Minnesota, 159—27 (seven games); Chicago, 127—40 (seven games); Michigan, 115—28 (seven games).

There were a couple of rulings in the Harvard-Yale game which few spectators understood. The first was when Harvard was penalized fifteen yards on the opening play, which disabled Ted Lilley. Harvard was penalized because Trainer Donovan came on the field without asking permission. There was a special agreement that trainers should ask permission before coming on the field, Johnny Mack, of Yale, lived up to the agreement all through the game. The reason why Hobbs was allowed to try twice for a goal from placement was because on his first try the ball going over the goal line, struck an official before being declared dead. The play, therefore, had to be done over again. A spectator batted the ball back against Field Judge Hall. In their conference before the game Captain Coy asked Captain Fish to agree to ground rules on all sides of the field. "I don't want my men running over spectators," he said. Captain Fish agreed to a ground rule for the side lines, but not back of the goal posts. Had he done so the occasioning of the two tries for goal would have been obliterated. Another point: It was Goebel who blocked Minot's punt and Corbett who made the Harvard safety.

Best in Seven Years.

A team drilled and coached and conditioned with mastery skill and forethought, that was Yale's team. It was prepared for every emergency and was the best rounded out team seen in the last seven years. Whether it ever possessed the direct and demolishing strength of the 1909 or 1902 teams and whether this year's undeniably strong Harvard team was as good as the 1901 Harvard team are questions difficult to answer because of the change from the five to the ten-yard rule. The teams of Coy and Fish might have eaten up the yards with the same glutinous power under the five-yard rule.

It was an odd spectacle that, last Saturday, of a team outwitting its conqueror, and yet not only being on the defensive a greater part of the time, but being kept in its own territory a still greater part of the time. No part of Yale's successful campaign is more indicative of the capable way in which that campaign was conducted than her ability not only to prevent her biggest rivals, Harvard and Princeton, from getting any but the scantiest of opportunities to score. Neither was inside Yale's 25-yard line. There was one time when Harvard threatened to be, that in the second half when the Crimson did her best rushing and was brought to a halt by the umpire for holding. But as the Yale defense was as good as impregnable when it had to be, the penalty probably served only to hasten the repulse.

Harvard Was Plucky.

On the subject of plucky defense a good word is due Harvard. The Harvard line defense was superb; it was courageous and it was executed with skill and intelligence. The offense was not conducted with the same confidence and understanding. The frequent interruptions as the ball was about to be put in play and then conferences pointed to a loose screw in the plan of offense or to a hurried state of mind on the part of somebody. Moreover, not once after one of these hurry call conferences did the ensuing play accomplish anything.

It remained for the Yale team to do more this season with the inside kick than anybody else. Three years ago Yale led in the manipulation of the forward pass. This year she takes the more strategic maneuver, the on-side kick and does more with it than any other team, showing effective deftness in performing it that it is better than anything in an on-side kick was ever produced, except as was done by Princeton last year and the year before. It was another cartridge in the Yale gun of versatility and resource. It is altogether probable, too, that but for the incapacitating of Vaughan, Yale would have shown something nifty in the forward pass, but as it is that play has not added to its luster this season, while the on-side kick, largely neglected heretofore because of too much timidity in risking it, has come to the front as a device worth while.

It can be stated positively that Harvard and Yale would have played as well last Saturday had they not had a minute's secret practice. There was nothing worthy of mention last Saturday that hadn't been shown in public, if not by Harvard or Yale, then by somebody else. The trick kickoff was worked by Princeton two years ago and much better than Harvard did it. The end run from a quick lineup was done by Fordham in the Georgetown game. Whatever "hidden" plays this year's secret practice has produced must still be in hiding for next year. A farcical side of the secret practice question is that Yale, the best team of the year, had less secret practice than any of the others. It may be that we shall get no more football after this year under the present rules. While discussing the playing code the rules committee would show sense were it to recommend the disuse of secret practice.

Scotch Covenanters Faith Kept Men Alive in the Wrecked Coal Mine.

Cherry, Ill., Nov. 24.—Out of the fire-locked depths of the St. Paul mine has come a Scotchman who today is a hero almost saint. To him, in the first moments after realizing their awful plight, twenty men turned instinctively, and to that little band before the men began to build a wall against the noxious gases, Clelland said:

"We are in God's hands. He only knows whether we will ever see our wives and children again. Let us pray."

Then, while every one knelt, his flaming torch cap in his hand, Clelland's deep, hoarse, hoarse voice arose in the petition of David:

"Out of the depths have I cried unto thee, O Lord. O Lord, hear my voice."

"Let not the deep swallow me up, and let not the pit shut her mouth upon me."

As the men stood, Clelland intoned the words of Isaac Watts:

"O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope for years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast
And our eternal home."

"Beneath the shadow of thy throne
Still may we dwell secure;
Sufficient is thine arm alone,
And our defense is sure."

Exhausting toil for hours followed, and when the miners paused to eat a portion of the morsels found in their dinner pails Clelland rose again, recited another psalm and sang the song which, repeated over and over during that week of living death, became a star of rescue to his comrades:

"Abide with me, fast falls the evening,
The darkness deepens, Lord, with me abide;
When other helpers fail and comforts flee,
Helper of the helpless, O abide with me."

"Swift to its close ebbs out life's little day;

Earth's joys grow dim, its glories pass away;
Change and decay in all around I see;
O thou who changest, it not, abide with me."

Some of the Italians and Lithuanians could not understand all the words, but they learned to sing them after their leader. Barriers of creed were forgotten, and as the days passed threats became parched and voices weak. Then those who could not sing lay on the floor and listened as Clelland led in hymns and prayers. "Keep up your courage, men," was Clelland's sermon, only a few hours before deliverance came. "God has not forgotten us, and if it is his will, we will live." And his heavenly, who had sustained life by gnawing bark and drinking seep water, followed him through the Lord's prayer in the petition, "Give us this day our daily bread."

Men wept, after the rescue, when they heard the story of the Scotch Covenanter's heroic faith. Women and children blessed him.

Certain lands in East Borneo are exempt from tithes, but Sir Thomas Lipton, who owns them, has to be ready when called upon to provide "fagots for the burning of heretics."
